- 25X1 1. The Ministry of Mining and Power is divided into personnel division, a budget division, and a legal division. Subordinate to the divisions are the following sections:

- I. Coal expediting section.
- II. Ore expediting section.
- III. Section for oil expediting.
- IV. Mineral expediting section.
- V. Section for the production of mining machinery.
- VI. Section for the expediting of light metals.
- VII. Section for the production and use of electrical energy.
- VIII. Section for the organic chemical industry.
- IX. Section for the inorganic chemical industry.
- X. Section for the refinement of crude petroleum.
- XI. Section for research and drilling.

The sections I to XI. are known as operative sections. Sections VIII and IX have taken over the details of the Ministry of the Chemical Industry, which was abolished.

2. Electrical energy for Hungarian industry is drawn from the national power grid. The following power stations belong to the grid: Ikervar in Győr, at the corner of Fehervari ut and Budai ut, Banihida, Tata, Szekesfehervar, Szatlinvaros, Inota, Matravideki Erömütelep, Ozd, Kazincbarcika, Budapest-Kelenfold, and a hydro-electric station at Tiszalucz.
3. Power stations are under construction at Tisza-Palkonya and Tiszalök on the Tisza. The Pécs station is being enlarged.
4. The Kénsavgyar sulphuric acid plant has lost its key position in the Hungarian chemical industry, since the new Tiszamenti Vegyiművek is now producing three times as much as Kénsavgyar.
